HISTORY

Colorful reminders of nearly four centuries of Spanish, Native American and South-western cultures endure at the Bishop’s Lodge. Steeped in rich history, this ranch resort was originally a spiritual retreat founded by Archbishop Jean-Baptiste Lamy (made famous by Willa Cath-er’s book Death comes for the Archbishop,) and still has the quaint chapel he built more than 100 years ago. With 111 luxurious rooms, this full-ser-vice resort offers numerous activities and amenities such as the award-winning SháNah Spa & Wellness Center, horseback riding, tennis, skeet and trap, heated outdoor pool, hot tub, modern workout facility, fine din-ing and seasonal poolside grill, team building, Camp Appaloosa kids camp, and hiking on more than 450 acres of wilderness adjacent to the Santa Fe National Forest.

ACCOMODATIONS

Make yourself at home in our ranch-style accommodations, where you’ll find the perfect balance of rustic charm and contemporary features. Our 15 lodges – and the rooms within them – each have their own timeless and original character. Many rooms feature kiva fireplaces, private courtyards and quaint balconies decorated with traditional Santa Fe style. Enjoy modern amenities such as CD play-ers, high-speed Internet access and pre-mium-cable television. A well-known re-treat for families for many years, Bishop’s Lodge can provide connecting rooms and oversized room options, especially suitable for large families or groups.

Welcome

Nestled in the secluded Tesuque Valley, at the foot of the Sangre de Cristo Mountains and minutes from the renowned downtown Santa Fe Plaza, this historic ranch resort offers gracious accommodations, revitalizing spa treatments, a variety of recreational and children’s activities and sumptuous fine dining – either in the warm surroundings of Las Fuentes Restaurant, or al fresco on our seasonal Sunset Patio, with panoramic views

“The Finest of Santa Fe’s Traditions”

RESTAURANT

Our Executive Chef and his culinary team offer contemporary American cuisine enhanced with the distinctive flavors of the Southwest. Our menus feature Black Angus beef, game, fowl and seafood, partnered with the freshest vegetables and local spices. And don’t miss our classic and elaborate Champagne Sunday Brunch, voted one of Santa Fe’s finest.

SPA & WELLNESS

Indulge your senses and soothe your soul at our SháNah Spa & Wellness Center. “SháNah” means “vitality and energy” in Navajo, and that’s precisely what you’ll receive. Whether you seek serenity, stress manage-ment, rejuvenation or wellness our caring staff strives to individualize each service to suit your specific needs.

Steeped in Native American traditions and incorporating natural healing remedies, herbs, and baths, our modern spa treatments provide an unrivalled experience. The SháNah Spa & Wellness center is the proud recipient of Conde Nast Johannsen’s award for “Most Outstanding Spa” in North America and the Caribbean.
